

What is happening to the rights of individuals, when Big Business can overturn us and invade our privacy by calling to solicit business. I can appreciate their rights to conduct business in whatever manner is necessary, however MY RIGHTS are to decline that conduct when I feel it is necessary for me. It is bad enough I have pounds of unsolicited mail that comes to my house, I would at least like SOME control with regards to my telephone calls. I also hope the FCC does not allow telemarketing calls to cell phones! If that is to happen, then you had better force the Cellular companies to removes fees for received calls! Not to mention allow cell phone numbers to be put on the no call list. Please do not disregard my rights as a consumer!

Sincerely,
Allen Kind
